SECTION 01

The 2026 wave

More than thirty foreign companies opened a first-time India GCC in under five months. Here is what the data says.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The headline

In the first four and a half months of 2026, foreign headquartered companies opened more than thirty first-time Global Capability Centres in India and scaled at least twenty two existing ones. The wave is broad, fast, and increasingly AI-led, and it is spreading well beyond the traditional Tier-1 cities.

KEY FINDINGS

1Speed is the story

30+ first-time GCCs in under five months, a pace that would have taken a year only recently.

2Pune is the breakout city

Pune now rivals Bengaluru for new launches, pulling industrial, engineering and finance work.

3Origins are diversifying

The United States still leads two to one, but Germany, France, Japan and Ireland are now regulars.

4AI is the common thread

From nano F&A centres to silicon security, AI is the stated mandate across sectors.

5BFSI and healthcare anchor it

Financial services and life sciences remain the deepest veins, with deep-tech rising fast.

THE DASHBOARD

2026 at a glance

30+

First-time GCC launches

22

Major expansions tracked

12

Countries of origin

6

Cities receiving new GCCs

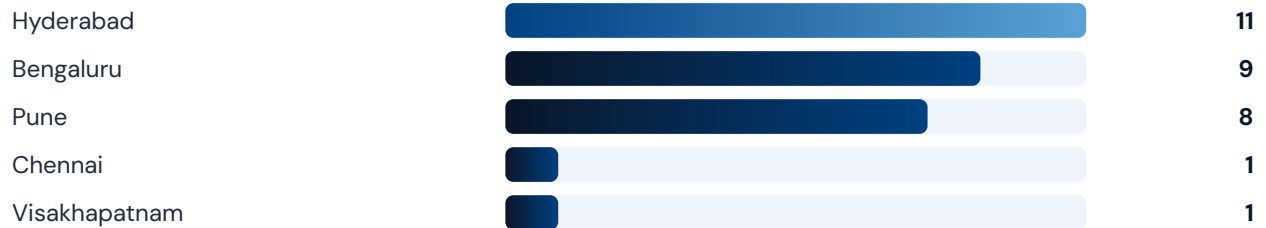

~2,500

Largest new hiring plan — LPL Financial

~24–26 lakh

Largest single footprint — Google, sq ft

New GCC launches by city

Insight. Hyderabad leads, Bengaluru is close, and Pune is the breakout challenger of 2026.

SECTION 02

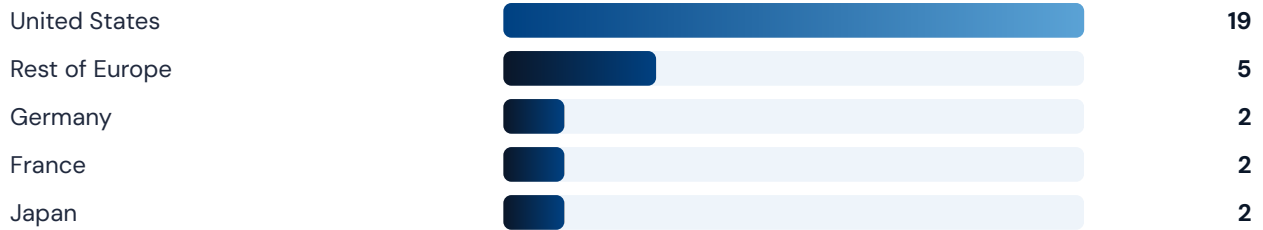

Trends and analysis

Where the wave comes from, what it is building, how fast it is moving, and how it is being set up.

ORIGINS AND SECTORS

Who and what

New launches by country of origin

Insight. The United States accounts for roughly two in three launches, but the country mix is broadening.

New launches by broad sector

Insight. No single industry owns the wave; software, healthcare and industrial lead, deep-tech rises.

MOMENTUM AND MODEL

Pace and set-up

2026 launch momentum (by month)

Insight. February and April were the breakout months; momentum continues to build.

Operating model of 2026 launches

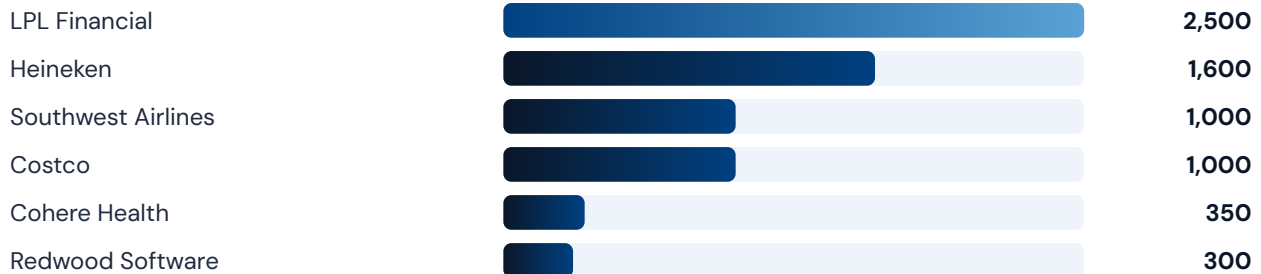

Insight. Most launches are captive. A confident minority use Build-Operate-Transfer (GI Outsourcing, TruBridge, Codec, Axiado) to move faster.

SCALE

The biggest bets

Largest new-launch hiring plans

Insight. Beyond logos, these are the real commitments, measured in planned headcount.

LOCATION LENS

Where it lands, and why

Hyderabad

THE 2026 CAPITAL

BFSI, healthtech, aviation, retail and HR-tech.
The largest share of new launches: Costco, LPL, T-Mobile, Heineken, Southwest, isolved, Zurich.

Bengaluru

DEEP-TECH AND SAAS

Semiconductors, cyber, insurance and software:
Thales, Festo, Axiado, Cyderes, The Standard, Zimmer Biomet, Raksul.

Pune

THE INDUSTRIAL CHALLENGER

Manufacturing, engineering, automotive and finance ops: QAD, Calderys, Generac, Zollner, Zendesk, ArcelorMittal, Boston Scientific.

Emerging

TIER-2 AND BEYOND

Visakhapatnam (Eisai), Chennai (TruBridge, KLA), Gurugram (S&P Global), Mumbai (Salesforce).

THEME SPOTLIGHTS

Four patterns to watch

AI-first and nano

THE LEAN MODEL

Small, automation-led centres set up fast: GI Outsourcing, Raksul, QAD, Litmus, Cohere Health.

Deep-tech rising

CORE IP TO INDIA

Silicon, cyber and aerospace: Axiado, Thales, Cyderes, plus expansions at TI, Applied Materials, KLA.

BFSI and insurance

THE DEEPEST VEIN

LPL, Zurich, The Standard, plus UBS, Vanguard, Citi, Deutsche Bank, Revolut scaling hard.

Geography broadens

BEYOND TIER-1

Pune's surge and Tier-2 wins (Vizag, Chennai) signal a wider India map for GCCs.

STRATEGIC OUTLOOK

What to watch in H2 2026

- Expect Pune to keep closing the gap with Bengaluru on first-time launches.
- More nano and BOT centres as firms prioritise speed and AI over headcount.
- Tier-2 cities to win at least a handful of new mandates as costs and talent spread.
- Deep-tech (semiconductors, cyber, aerospace) to be the fastest-growing new layer.

Methodology, glossary, terms of use, and about the Chief Researcher.

METHODOLOGY AND SOURCES

How this report is built

Every entry is screened against the GCCPROs definition of a GCC, a captive centre owned by a company headquartered outside India. Each launch and expansion is verified against public announcements, company statements and primary reporting, and cross-checked against the GCCPROs database of more than five thousand centres.

Indian headquartered companies are excluded. IT-services delivery centres, relocations and unverified entries are held out of the confirmed lists. The window for this edition is 1 January to 20 May 2026. Sources include company newsrooms, leading business media, and verified leasing data from Panchshil, Propstack, CRE Matrix and RE Journal.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Shammi Prabhakar Singh

Chief Researcher, GCCPROs

Shammi Prabhakar Singh is the Chief Researcher at GCCPROs, where he leads original, independent research on the global Global Capability Centre ecosystem.

He has built seven Global Capability Centres across India and the Philippines, and brings deep, first-hand experience of how centres are set up, scaled and run. His background includes NielsenIQ, one of the world's largest market intelligence and data analytics firms, where he worked at the intersection of data, analytics and global capability, the same disciplines that now power the GCCPROs database.

A LinkedIn Top Voice and a 40 Under 40 leader recognised by ICAI and CNBC, he is a Chartered Accountant, an author and a keynote speaker.

At GCCPROs he has built a verified database of more than five thousand GCCs worldwide, convened an invite-only Industry Council of 35+ leaders, and hosts curated, vendor-free roundtables across India.
